

PROVIDING ACCESSIBLE TRANSPORTATION SERVICES: PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT RESOURCES FOR TRANSPORTATION PROVIDERS

DATE/TIME

Thursday, October 27, 2016
12:00 PM to 1:30 PM [Mountain Time]/
2:00 PM to 3:30 PM [Eastern Time]

DESCRIPTION

Join us for this free and informative webinar presented by Donna Smith and Carol Wright of Easter Seals Project Action Consulting.

Workforce development training is essential to building an accessible transportation environment. Join us for this free webinar to learn more about the availability of training for transportation service providers.

Attendees will learn about multiple training topics, providers, and sources, including: university programs, national training and technical assistance programs, consultants, state, regional and national conferences, and transportation agencies. Attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions and offer additional information about their own training programs and needs.

Sponsored by the MSU Western Transportation Institute, West Region Transportation Workforce Center and the Eurasia Foundation University Partnership Program.

PRESENTERS

Donna Smith is the director of training for Easter Seals Project Action Consulting. Donna has over thirty-five years experience as a professional in the field of disability advocacy with most of those years as a training and technical assistance specialist on disability-related laws and issues. Since 2002, she has focused specifically on transportation issues. Her areas of knowledge pertinent to accessible transportation include community approaches to implement systems change needed to improve accessible transportation, ADA rights and responsibilities, travel training, coalition building, the transit experience from the customer's perspective, the increasing role of technology in transportation access, and the accessible pedestrian environment.

Carol Wright is the Assistant Vice President for Mobility & Transportation of the Easter Seals transportation group and Co-Director of the National Aging and Disability Transportation Center based in Washington, D.C. Prior to joining Easter Seals, Carol was Associate Director of Outreach and Training at the Upper Great Plains Transportation Institute at North Dakota State University for seven years where she was responsible for developing and delivering national training on a broad breadth of transit topics.
